CITY AND VICINITY.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. James Doyle, Saturday, a daughter.

J. C. Allber of South Haven was granted the first concession by the Holland Fair association this week. It was for a shooting gallery.

Waukazoo Inn is doing a very good business this season. One day this week it was barely possible to accommodate all those desiring rooms.

Receipts at the Saugatuck post office for the month of July were 20 per cent higher than for the corresponding month last year, showing that the summer resort business is rapidly increasing.

Next Monday will be farewell day on all summer goods at John Vandersuis. Any shirt waist in the store 50 cents. Just think of buying 15 and 20 cent dimities for 5 cents a yard. Be in time if you want to get some of the plums.

Sheriff Dykhuys has been notified that the cattle belonging to Gerfit Schrotenboer of Olive have been found. The cattle were reported to the officers as stolen some weeks ago.
They were found in a pasture about three farms away.

James Zeeryp, well known in this city, the tea agent who a year ago refused to pay a license under the Muskegon city ordinance and who took his case into justice court and from there to the circuit and state supreme courts and was defeated in each, has paid $100 license, which fixes him out up to May 1, 1904.

Dr. Walter VanArkel of Muskegon has received a communication from Rev. M. H. A. Vander Valk, now living in the Netherlands, but a former resident of that city, and at one time pastor of the Immanuel church. The card is dated at Bostel, Netherlands, July 27, 1903, and in it the writer states that he has accepted a call from the Netherlands Reformed church at Oud-Beverland.

Many a city "journalist" finds fertile source for jokes in the little items of seeming small importance, which appear so frequently in country weeklies. However we fail to see why the fact that "John Jones has painted his house" may not be as well worth being recorded in the local paper as the fact that the dog of some actress is worth two-column pictures and half column descriptions in city dailies.
Blamed if we can see the difference in merit between a poodle dog editorial in a big city daily and the "big egg laid on the desk of ye editor" of a country weekly.—Fennville Herald.

The Grand Rapids, Holland & Lake Michigan Rapid railway has issued a handsome 36-page booklet entitled "Picturesque Rides," describing the road and its attractions and containing many views of points of interest along the route between Grand Rapids Macatawa and Saugatuck. The cover of the book is an illuminated one showing an interurban car rounding the bend in the road along the banks of Black lake. Dozens of half tones showing street views and bits of scenery along the company's right of way fill the book and considerable space is devoted to Jensen Park, Macatawa and Ottawa Beach and surrounding resorts. It is a very handsome souvenir.

The Vandermeer & Timmer Lumber company of Zeeland has made an assignment in favor of its creditors, its liabilities being $31,500. The business is placed in the hands of Trustees Frank Boonstra and Martin Elzinga of Zeeland, who hold a trust deed. The firm declares that if allowed to continue business until next March it will be able to pay creditors the full amount. The company is capitalized at $15,000, claiming to be conducting a 44,000 business. The members of the company are S. Vandermeer, T. A.
Timmer and Isaac Elenbaas. The firm has been in business two years, succeeding the Elenbaas company. A saw and planing mill, with the factory at Zeeland and a large sawmill at Lev-ering, Mich., are operated by the company. A large tract of timber is also owned at Levering. The assignment causes surprise, as the company was supposed to be prosperous. The firm claims it was made necessary by the creditors pressing for payment.

Rev. C. C. A. L. John of Central Park conducted services in South Haven Sunday.

Miss Kittle L. Duffy of this city has been engaged as teacher of school district No. 8, Olive township.

Rev. Dr. Wm. G. Werhelm, of Springfield, Ohio, who, with his wife, is visiting Rev. and Mrs. P. Werhelm, 248 West Twelfth street, conducted services at Zion's German Evangelical church last Sunday morning.

The following officers were elected at a meeting of the board of directors of the Walsh-DeRoo Milling & Cereal Co. last Saturday: President, H.
Walsh; vice president, I. Marsille; secretary, Wm. Brussee; treasurer, G. W.
Mokma; manager, C. J. DeRoo.

Arrangements have been made between the Pere Marquette railway company and the several Sunday schools of Allegan for a union excusion to Ottawa Beach, Wednesday, Aug. 19. A special train will leave Allegan at eight o'clock a. m. and returning will leave Ottawa Beach at 5:30.

No wonder a minister will abandon the preaching business and take up the work of soliciting fruit shipments for a Chicago commission house. One who did so received money enough to buy a suit of clothes out of his commission on shipments made from this section on a single Sunday!—Fennville Herald.

C. A. Davis, publisher of The Reporter, of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, was called here Saturday by the serious illness of his wife, who with her two sons, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. E.
Lothrop. Mrs. Davis has nearly recovered but will not return home for some time. The Reporter is the only paper published in Cuyahoga, which is a place of 4000, and Mr. Davis does a very good business.

The man with the gun is in the ascendency at Virginia Park this afternoon. He is there trying to shoot Blue Rocks at the golf grounds and there is a large crowd to cheer him on. The cards of invitation say that the cool breezes are blowing and that P. T. McCarthy, proprietor of the Virginia Park hotel, is there with the goods ready to furnish everything appetizing and substantial under the sun.

Chan Hoy, monarch of the Grand Rapids Chinamen and owner of the Chinese laundry here, was arrested Monday on a charge of selling liquor without a license at the Hong Far Lo restaurant at Grand Rapids. It is said by the officers that the sale of liquor without license has been general in the Chinese restaurants in Grand Rapids and that at Chan's place the liquor was smuggled into the place in the form of boxed dry goods. Chan waived preliminary examination in the police court and was held to the present term of the superior court.

The death of J. Huizenga, one of the pioneers of this locality, occurred last Friday at his home in Zeeland at the age of 73 years. Mr. Huizenga came from the Netherlands in 1848.
He was secretary of the Zeeland Old Settlers association for fifteen years and was very well known throughout the county. He leaves a wife and five children, Albert J. of this city, Cor-nellius of Grand Rapids, Mrs. M.
Schram, of Washington, D. C., and the Misses Mary and Anna Huizenga of Zeeland. The funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the First Reformed church of Zeeland, Rev. J.
P. DeJong officiating.

G. Walter Meade, the man whom the Detroit Tribune management delegated to get out the book dealing with the "Under the Oaks" celebration which will be held in Jackson next year in commemoration of the birth of the republican party was in the city Wednesday and consulted several of the leading republicans in reference to some of the historical features of the book. No expense will be spared to make the volume one of the most accurate and complete historical works ever issued in Michigan. Besides containing everything of historical value, it will be illustrated with cuts of the men who helped make the republican party in the past and the men who are active in the councils of the party at present. No man in Michigan is better equipped for this great task than Mr. Meade. For seven years he represented different Detroit papers at the state capitol in Lansing and last year he was appointed press clerk of the house and senate and did the routine newspaper work in the senate for the Detroit and Grand Rapids papers. He knows every politician in active service in the state and knows the politics of the state like a book.

Three firemen on the City of Milwaukee of the Graham & Morton line quit work Monday at St. Joseph rather than wipe off the machinery, claiming that they were union men and hired only to shovel coal.

The fire department was called out last Monday night by fire in a barn on the premises of A. Steketee, but it was not necessary to turn on the water as the blaze was small and was extinguished before the arrival of the firemen.

Diekema & Kollen sold Gerrit Steketee's bakery on Tenth street at auction under a chattel mortgage Monday morning to Tim Slagh and Klass Zuidewind for $635. Messrs.
Slagh & Zuidewind at once sold it to H. Fisher of Zeeland who will continue the business.

There is one thing in particular in which Zeeland excels, and excellence in that particular thing is commendable. Probably no place in the United States subscribes more liberally for religious purposes. Rev. J. T. Bergen told a Zeeland congregation last Sunday night of the spiritual needs of the Indians in Oklahoma and after the sermon a collection was taken amounting to $80.

Miss Ruth Kerkhof, formerly a teacher in the schools of this city, who, last fall left here to teach a school at McKee, Jackson county, Kentucky, is enjoying a months vacation at the home of her father, John Kerkhof, of this city. Though the site of her school is in a rather rude, mountainous country, the work is not disagreeable, but is attractive and interesting. The salary received by Miss Kerkhof is much larger than is paid teachers in the north.

Venetian Night will be celebrated at Ottawa Beach tonight and the illuminations will be more gorgeous than ever before. The Chicago, Spring Lake and Macatawa Bay Yacht clubs have assembled their fleets for the regatta to the number of 60 and the entire flotilla will be illuminated. In addition to this every cottage, hotel and boathouse will be illuminated, making one of the most brilliant spectacles ever witnessed in western Michigan. The grand march of the illuminated flotilla will be magnificent. The street railway company is making extensive arrangements to handle large crowds and a number of extra cars will be put in service.

Odds of 2 to 10 on McKinley, who sold as favorite in the pools, and money tight at that price, prevented the Holland crowd that attended the Joliet races from making a killing, although most of them made expenses and had a little left for luxuries. Mc-Kinley won in three straight heats, his best time being 2:10. Between the first and second heats Albert Boone, his driver, told H. Boone, sr., the owner, that he could crowd McKinley to do the turn in 2:05 if it was necessary. McKinley is booked for the grand circuit and his performance at Joliet indicates that he will make good. If he does his owner will make barrels of money. His first appearance in the grand circuit will be at Read-ville, Mass., August 25, where he is entered in the 2:10 trot for a $5,000 purse. From Readville he will go to Narragansett Park, to Charter Oak, and to Columbus.

West Olive.

H. H. Ingersol and wife returned to Grand Rapids, Wednesday.

Mrs. Julia Mosier of Hamilton, is spending a few days here, visiting, and picking berries.

"Doc" Norton, our popular horse physician, attended the races in Grand Rapids Thursday.

A heifer, owned by August Brecker, came near hanging herself by putting her head between the spokes of a wagon wheel a few days ago. This appears like a case of attempt at suicide.

John Thurbottle of Lamont and Mrs. Flora Conlardot of Fort Wayne, Indiana, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Marble.

Harry Guiles, made a business trip to Holland Wednesday.

Ben Names, Olive's juror, for the August term of the circuit court returned from Grand Haven Saturday, August 8—a son.

Dr. Imus performed an operation on Wm. Marble last week for dropsy, by tapping.

A girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. John C. Robart, Sunday August 9. Mother and child are doing well.

Fred Guiles of Coats Grove, Barry Co., passed Sunday with his father Jesse Guiles and family, returning Monday.

That eight foot skeleton, found last week near Port Sheldon was undoubtedly the remains of a mound builder. This prehistoric race, whose extinction is a mystery, must have been a class of giants, like unto Goliath who was slain by David.

Mrs. Mary C. Binns, Mrs. L. D. Post and Mrs. Thomas Binns of Niles, Mrs. Oscar Dixon of Ann Arbor, Mrs. Joseph Ledlie of Pittsburg, Pa., and Mrs. E. D. McNeil of Mishawaka, Ind., with headquarters in the Beach block, are visiting Charles and Frank Binns. They are some of the best visitors ever seen in the village and we wish their stay would be permanent.

Dr. Bruinsma, figured in a runaway, Friday afternoon while returning from a visit to Friedrich Point. His top carriage was wrecked but Olive's medicine dealer escaped uninjured.

Remember the ice cream social in the parlors of the Beach building, Saturday evening, August 15. Everybody come and help make the eating a success.

H. S. Goodman presented your correspondent with a couple of the finest tasting clingstone peaches ever raised in this locality. Their taste, color and size speak well of the care his two year old peach orchard has received.

Wm. Garnett is on the sick list.

We understand that a summer resort will be erected at Port Sheldon some time during this century. Summer resorts are all right providing that the owners do not sell enough liquor to visitors so that they can accidentally drown themselves in Lake Michigan.

Filmore

If the cool weather continues much longer we will all be free from picking pickles.

John H. Boeve killed a rattlesnake in the Veneklassen's woods while picking berries.

John Lemon is taking his first lessons in engineering with the Tapersta's threshing rig.

R. S. Fairbanks has nearly completed his silo. Several silos will be set up this fall.

The congregation of Ebenezer called Rev. A. E. Kuiper of Graafschap last Monday evening.

The Misses Maggie and Dora Mokma, daughters of Mrs. L. Mokma, are on the sick list.

Arie Prins has a young horse which had its right shoulder dislocated. But there is a fair chance of recovery.

Claude Howell is home on a visit with his parents. Mr. Howell holds a position with the Illinois Central Railroad Co.

Mothers lose their dread for "that terrible second summer" when they have Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in the house. Nature's specific for summer complaints of every sort.

LYNCHINGS NOT JUSTIFIED

Rev. Babbitt Contrasts Views of John Temple Graves.

Makes Elaborate Address Before the Chautauqua Assembly on the Subject.

Chautauqua, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Rev. Dr. Dean Richmond Babbitt, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, Brooklyn, answered John Temple Graves, of Georgia, in an elaborate address Wednesday at the Chautauqua assembly on lynchings and mobs from an American standpoint. Dr. Babbitt's address was the chief one of the day on mobs. He contrasted the view of lynching, justified by Mr. Graves, with what he called the "more general and the better view of the American nation," and showed the prevalence and increasing violence of the mob spirit, its tendency to leap the color line and to lynch for minor offenses than rape and murder. He dwelt upon the psychology of the mob and gave the Wilmington lynching of the negro White as typical and denounced the officials who refused to protect any prisoner of any color or for any crime. He paid a glowing tribute to order and law as represented in Gov. Durbin and Gov. Yates of Indiana and Illinois, respectively, and upheld President Roosevelt in his recent letter on lynching. Lynchers, the speaker declared, were plain, brutal, savage murderers, should be treated as such by the authorities and by all worthy to wear the name of American citizens. "More morality, less prejudice, stricter law quickly applied, fair play to negro and white and both the race question and the mob problem will assume less dangerous dimensions," said Dr. Babbitt in conclusion.

WHAT BOARD WILL DECIDE.

Chairman Gray Outlines Questions to Be Settled by Alabama Arbitrators.

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 12.—Wednesday's session of the board of arbitration which is to adjust the differences between the Alabama miners and coal operators opened with a statement by the chairman, Judge George Gray, of Delaware, regarding the scope of the arbitration. Judge Gray said that the following matters would be considered as within the board's scope: Eight-hour days, five cents advance in miners' wages on the ton with corresponding increase in day wages, semi-monthly pay days, prices paid for dead or narrow work, differential in machine and pick mining, minimum number of days to be worked each month, readjustment of day wage scale, differential between Pratt mines and other mines. In considering an advance on the wages Judge Gray said that the sliding scale will be taken up both in minimum and maximum.

PRESIDENT ENJOYS OUTING.

In Company with Family and Friends He Takes Short Cruise on Long Island Sound.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 12.—The president and Mrs. Roosevelt, accompanied by several of their children and nephews, and by Mr. and Mrs. Jacob A. Rits, of Richmond Hill, L. I., Wednesday enjoyed an outing on the naval yacht Sylph. The day was ideal for a cruise. It was expected that the trip would consume several hours and extend far down Long Island sound. Glen Island was the objective point, and it was proposed to have a picnic luncheon.

Sir Thomas Lipton has accepted the president's invitation to witness the naval review and inspection next Monday from the deck of the auxiliary cruiser Mayflower, which on that day will fly the president's flag.

Sixty Killed by Cossacks.

New York, Aug. 12.—Latest reports telegraphed from Kieff, Russia, to the Times, by way of London, say there were 60 persons killed by the Cossacks in last Thursday's riots. The correspondent asserts that the sympathy of the educated classes is with the workmen, as the strike movement is directed not only for the amelioration of labor conditions, but also against the system of government. The workmen, it is added, are regarded as the pioneers in the movement for political freedom.

United States Senator Married.

West Chester, Pa., Aug. 12.—In strict accordance with the usages of the Society of Friends, United States Senator Weldon Brinton Heyburn, of Idaho, and Miss Gheratien Yeatman, of this country, were married at noon Wednesday in the parlor of the Yeatman homestead in Kennett township. The only guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Heyburn, of Louisville, Ky., brother of the senator and his sister, Mrs. H. C. Marshall, of Duluth, Minn., and Miss Florence Yeatman, sister of the bride.

Posse Encounters Outlaw.

Blackfoot, Idaho, Aug. 12.—Meager advices received here late Tuesday night state that a sheriff's posse has encountered "Bob" Meeks, the escaped outlaw, at a point 70 miles east of Blackfoot. Meeks was headed for the "Hole-in-the-Wall" and was accompanied by six of his former associates. The result of the encounter seems to have been adverse to the posse, although no details are given.

Loss by Fire.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 12.—Fire early Wednesday morning destroyed Radcliffe & Co.'s four-story brick warehouse here, entailing a loss of over $100,000. The building was filled with valuable furniture, owned by local dealers.

Suits

Summer clothing has always been wanting in fit and permanency of shape.

Linings and tailorings were sacrificed to coolness and a man obtained comfort at the cost of appearances.

We offer our customers thin, cool, comfortable clothes that fit as perfectly as regular full lined garments and retain their shapes.

The suit is light and cool—the coat weighing but 22 ounces. The trousers have permanent cuffs to turn up at the bottom and loops at the waist band for belt.

The materials are light flannels and summer outing cloths.

Each suit pattern is twice sponged and shrunk before it is cut and guaranteed not to shrink after it is made up.

MANY KILLED IN A TRAIN WRECK

Wallace Brothers' Circus Meets Disaster in the Railroad Yards at Durand, Mich.

Two Sections Come Together and Twenty - Three Men Lose Their Lives and Several Others Are Injured, Some Fatally—Wild Scenes Follow the Crash.

Durand, Mich., Aug. 8.—Twenty-three men are dead, several others probably will die of their injuries, a dozen are seriously hurt and the bodies of an elephant and two camels lie mangled as a result of a collision here Friday morning between the trains carrying Wallace Brothers' circus. The dead were men connected with the show and employees of the Grand Trunk railroad, on which the terrible wreck occurred. Failure of the air brakes on the rear train to work caused the collision.

List of the Dead.
The dead circus men are: John Lecuy, Springfield, Ill.; Andrew Howland, New York; Frank Thorp, Dundee, Mich.; Charles Sand, Peru, Ind.; Joe Wilson, Pittsburg; W. J. McCoy, Columbus, O.; Edward York, Terre Haute, Ind.; James Toffelmire, Orient, Ia.; Harry St. Clair, Robert Rice, George Smith, residences unknown; seven un-

Applicants for Naturalization Papers Must Speak the English Language Understandingly.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 6.—Judge Clifford D. Gregory, in the county court, in rejecting 60 applications for naturalization papers established a precedent by making the following declaration: "I will not naturalize any person who comes before me and is unable to speak the English language sufficiently to make himself understood. I will compel them to answer questions regarding their age, place of nativity, when they arrived in the United States, and other questions which I deem essential to good citizenship, and if they fail to make satisfactory answers, I will refuse to grant them necessary papers. When a man has been in this country five years and is unable to talk our language, in my opinion he is not fit to be admitted to citizenship, and I will act accordingly."

SCORES PERISH IN TUNNEL DISASTER

Accident on Underground Railway in Paris Caused by a Burning Train.

Believed That Death List Will Exceed 100—Many of the Victims Are Women and Children, All of Whom Had Been Suffocated—Cause of the Catastrophe.

Paris, Aug. 12.—Ninety-four bodies have been recovered and the death list probably will exceed 100 in an underground railway disaster which occurred here Monday night.

The accident, which occurred on the Metropolitan electric railway, assumed the proportions of an awful catastrophe during the early hours Tuesday when more than four score bodies of the burned and suffocated victims were removed from the subterranean passage. The work continues and indications are that the death list will, perhaps, exceed five score.

Heartrending Scenes.

The scenes at the mouth of the tunnel where the victims were brought forth were of the most heartrending description—crowds of weeping men, women and children struggling forward in an effort to recognize their missing relatives and friends. Most of the victims are from the middle and working classes, as the trains were carrying them home from their work.

Although the accident occurred at eight o'clock Monday evening, the officials and firemen were unable, until early Tuesday morning, to descend into the tunnel owing to the blinding clouds of smoke from the burning train. Frequent attempts were made by heroic volunteers, whom it was necessary to rescue, half suffocated and carried away to the hospitals.

Cause of the Accident.

The causes of the accident are engaging the attention of the officials. Several versions of the disaster are given, but the main facts which have been established are the following: Train No. 43, on reaching the neighborhood of the cemetery of Pere la Chaise, broke the electric motor and the train waited at the station of Les Couronnes until the arrival of a second train, which pushed the crippled train forward, making a total of 16 coaches.

Terrible Panic.

After proceeding about 200 yards toward Menilmontant station the damaged dynamo set fire to the first train. Simultaneously the electric lights on the trains went out. A terrible panic occurred among those behind, and the horror of the situation was increased by a third train crashing into the fiery mass and adding another crowd of panic-stricken passengers to those seeking an outlet.

MANY PERSONS INJURED.

Missouri, Kansas and Texas Flyer Jumps Track Near Nevada, Mo. —Nobody Killed.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 12.—The east-bound flyer, No. 6, on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas, which left Parsons, Kan., at 8:10 Monday night for St. Louis, jumped the track 20 miles north of Nevada, Mo., Monday night. The postal car, combination mail car and a chair car were badly splintered, while three others were derailed. The engine with the first car of the train plowed about 150 yards before it was stopped, tearing up the track. The train was well filled with passengers, 21 of whom were injured.

Offered a Good Position.

Oyster Bay, Aug. 12.—The president has tendered to Charles P. McClelland, of Westchester county, N. Y., a membership on the board of general appraisers. Mr. McClelland is a democrat and a member of the New York state senate from the Twenty-second district. The appointment is to take effect on October 1. If he accepts the proffer Mr. McClelland will succeed on the board Col. J. A. Jewell, resigned.

Died of Apoplexy.

La Crosse, Wis., Aug. 11.—W. C. Jenks, who for 30 years has been prominent in the lumber business of the northwest, died yesterday morning of a stroke of paralysis, aged 56 years. He was a descendant of Peter Jenks, who made the first iron furnace in America and who also made the dies for the first American coins.

Death of W. E. Dodge.

Bar Harbor, Me., Aug. 10.—William E. Dodge, the New York millionaire and philanthropist, died Sunday at Stanwood, his summer home here, aged 71 years. He was one of the founders of the Union League club and well known as foremost in charitable work. He is survived by a widow and three daughters.

Storm in Kansas.

Pittsburg, Kan., Aug. 10.—Michael McMullen and Mrs. Antone Sarto were killed, over 50 persons were injured, some of them fatally, and enormous damage was done to residence, mining and farm property by a terrific storm which swept over this section Saturday.

Many Deaths.

Vienna, Aug. 11.—The strike riots at Cracow, Austrian Poland, have resulted, according to a Cracow newspaper, in 60 deaths since August 5 through conflicts between the strikers and the troops.

Paid the Penalty.

Jacksonville, Fla., Aug. 8.—Frank Roberson (colored) was hanged here for the murder of Deputy Sheriff Sadler at Pablo Beach four years ago.

Every claim made for the "Little Conquerer" is proven. Proven in Holland by local experience. Here is one case from the many we have.

Mrs. F. Andree, of 243 West 12th street, says: "For a year or more I had a constant aching pain through my loins in the side and also a soreness of the stomach. I could hardly stoop to lift anything without suffering severely. I did not rest comfortably at night and became so lame and sore from lying in one position that in the morning I arose feeling tired and unrefreshed. I was bothered a great deal with headache, spells of dizziness, and the kidney secretions became affected, were irregular, too frequent and unnatural. I doctored a great deal and took many kinds of medicines, but without getting better. I believe I would still be suffering if I had not heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and procured them from J. O. Doesburg's drug store. I felt better after taking a few doses and continued their use until cured." of Vessels.

Gross Tonnage System

Owners and assessing officers in which vessels are assessed will be interested by the ruling last week by the state tax commission, providing that the practice of assessing from the valuation of the amount of bonded debt upon them shall be discontinued, that the boats shall be taxed at full value, and that the boats be taxed when held by persons in this state.

It is not only means that the debt of the boat cannot be used as a tax, but that double taxation, levied on the boats, just the mortgaged land is doubly taxing the land at its full value when taxing the mortgage. It is taxed doubly the land cannot put on another state. It is a matter of fact and steer for a more equitable one. It must stay in Michigan and be taxed without uttering a protest, unless the failure to produce the usual crops may be considered as a protest.

With vessel property, it is different. There are a few other states besides Michigan, situated on the chain of lakes. At least three of these states, Wisconsin, Illinois, and Indiana, instead of forcing owners to pay a tax on the full value of the boat, simply ask them in honeyed accents to pay a tax of only 10 per cent on the gross tonnage. This tax is but a bagatelle compared with the tax levied in Michigan, and it is surprising how favorably it appeals to vessel owners. They have their vessels hail, not from Michigan but from one of the states that deal out the 10 per cent gross tonnage brand of vessel taxation. When a person hears that the people who own the greater part of the stock of the Graham & Morton line live in Michigan, he naturally thinks that the steamers of that line hail from Michigan and are taxed in Michigan. Not so. The steamers hail from Indiana. So with other lines. The Eastland, owned in South Haven, the City of South Haven, owned in South Haven, hail from some obscure port in another state so that they can come under the 10 per cent brand. They have been driven from Michigan in self defense. Offices, just for purposes of taxation, have been established in other states. The other states get the benefit and Michigan does not get a pleasant look.

Under the system pursued in Michigan before the ruling made by the commission, calling for double taxation, the steamers were driven from Michigan fast enough to make the assessors weep. For vessels were then taxed ten times as heavily as in Indiana. Under the double taxation system it will be worse, and it may not be long when only the old hulks that are ready for Davy Jones locker and are not worth moving will be left in Michigan.

The commission's latest ruling will serve one useful purpose. It will call the attention of the people of the state to the fact that for years vessel owners have been trying to have the law changed so that they would be treated as other states treat vessel owners.

Many reasons can be advanced in favor of the 10 per cent tax on gross tonnage. Vessel owners do not get many of the benefits enjoyed by owners of other property, such as police protection, and fire protection.

But besides the reasons for changing the law that are founded upon justice, there is one fact that appeals with peculiar force. That is that the men who desire to dodge the burden, the men who can afford to establish an office in another state and dodge, do dodge, while the owners of the small coast traders, the poor fellows who are too conscientious to dodge, remain here and bear the brunt. And who can deny that it is only a question of time when so many will dodge that the tax levied upon those who remain will not, even at the double taxation rate, equal the amount that would be received under the 10 per cent gross tonnage system should all remain?

Something should be done to stop this wholesale dodging and to keep the names of Michigan ports on the sterns of our steamers, for it is a trifle humiliating to see Michigan boats with the names of obscure towns in other states appended after their names as the hailing ports.

One thing that stands in the way of a remedy is the constitutional clause calling for uniformity of taxation. This clause should be doctored by amendment so that Michigan can place on its books a law that will put it on the same footing as other states. Then all of our boats would hail from Michigan. The Graham & Morton steamers would have Benton Harbor or Holland after their names in big letters; the Eastland would have South Haven; the Ludington boats would have Ludington; and the Muskegon boats Muskegon. How nice that would be!

Situation Demands Calling out of Militia

The news that comes from Saugatuck cuts like a knife. It severs every feeling of security that makes life worth while and allows the clouds of inky darkness to hide from our sight all that is serene, substantial and orthodox in life. It shows that the provocation and the danger is sufficiently great to demand the calling out of the militia and no fault can be found with those who denounce vehemently Gov. Bliss because he does not call upon the sworn guardians of our beloved country to stand unyielding between the dear people and the tremendous evil that threatens destruction to all that is good, noble and exalting.

Think of the avalanche of woe that threatens to disrupt Saugatuck society, think of the homes that are threatened with destruction, think of the—of the—of the—well—the language at the command of the humble scribe on the News does not adequately describe the dreadful situation and he will have to fall back on the vivid description of the affair furnished by the Saugatuck Commercial. Here it is:

"Some of the summer girls residing here have adopted the South Haven custom of going about the streets in their bathing clothes. That's why you see so many of our prominent citizens with their hands over their eyes."

Again we must say, "think of it." Think of the deplorable condition of affairs that confronts the beautiful resort on the river of the insane; think of the unmanly, ungenerous spirit manifested by the gentlemen of that garden spot of Allegan county; think of it; think of it. The men are so dead to chivalry, so dead to the knightly sentiments that made of life a grand, sweet song in the days of old, so dead to the attention due summer girls that they actually "put their hands over their eyes" and refuse to look at the visions of loveliness as they troop by in their bathing suits.

Shame be upon the men of Saugatuck. We expected more from them.

However, they may be justified in pursuing the course they do, for one of them was heard to remark that the trouble is that "summer girls and some are not."

The Fair Directors Talk.

In the premium list of the nineteenth annual fair of the S. O. & W. A. Agricultural Society which will be held in Holland September 29 and 30 and October 1 and 2, the board of directors talk to the point. Here is the annual greeting:

"This, the nineteenth annual premium list of the fair to be held in Holland, September 29 and 30 and October 1 and 2, concerns not only the board of directors but the people of this part of the state generally, for the hearty co-operation of all is essential to success. The territory contiguous to the fair, rich, as it is, in everything that goes to make a prosperous country, possessing uncommon agricultural advantages, and abreast of the times in stock raising and other pursuits, offers vast opportunities for a fine display, and great success will be attained if each does a part and if all manifest lively interest.

"All should help. The association was never in better shape to make an effort to excel. The board of directors has determined to do more than ever. All departments—Agricultural, Stock, Pomological, Household, Art, Implements—will be given special attention, and the interest already shown indicates that every available foot of exhibition space will be utilized.

"The amusements will be exceptionally good. Instructions have been given to obtain something new and novel in the line of entertainment and the officials are in communication with some of the largest attraction bureaus and have already arranged for several new features.

"Unusual attention will be given the races. The purses will be larger than ever, the program better. A special committee has been empowered to proceed upon a larger scale and to make the races the best in the history of the society. This committee has been doing good work all summer and has already arranged for the appearance of some of the best horses in the circuit.

"Remember, you who may read this list, that individual interest on your part means much to the fair. Therefore do something. Let the art hall be a scene of beauty; bring to the fair the products of the farm; the orchard, the garden, the hothouse; crowd the stalls and the barns with live stock; bring entries of every description and the attainment of a pleasing result is assured."

Circuit Court

John Schurhorn was sentenced by Judge Padgham to nine months at Ionia. Henry Tuls and Teddy Helder, his accomplices, presented a petition signed by Holland residents testifying to their previous reputation and Judge Padgham withheld their sentence until the first day of the next term of court. Meantime he will make an investigation. Jacob Japinga, charged with violation of the liquor law was fined $25 and costs amounting to $31.30. Frank Porter on the same charge was fined $15 and costs amounting to $27. Wm. Streeter, who pleaded guilty of falsely impersonating an officer, was fined $10 and costs or $20.60. All paid their fines.

The jury in the Stephany case brought in a verdict of not guilty.

Mrs. Susan Van Slooten was granted a divorce from Nicholas Van Slooten, both of Holland. Mrs. Van Slooten was permitted to take her maiden name, Susan Glass. The divorce was secured by Attorney Arthur Van Duren.

In the fish case against John and Bert Horling, Judge Padgham instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of guilty as charged. The Horlings are alleged to have fished illegally in a lake on their farm near Lamont. The defense claimed that, as the lake was on land owned by the defendants, they could fish as they pleased from it.

Market Day Is Here.

Market day is not coming, it is here. At last the farmers of this vicinity and the leading business men have come together on the idea of establishing a market place in Holland and the first day of trial is tomorrow when at 5 o'clock in the morning the farmers will congregate at Ninth street and Central avenue and with their wagons loaded with produce backed against the sidewalk will give the citizens a chance to purchase their stock in good old market day style.

T. B. Goosen, of Grand Rapids, who has been in business in this city a couple of months, is one of the men back of the plan and it is due to his hard work and persistent agitation of the matter that the first move will be made to-morrow.

It is not expected that Ninth street will be the regular market place. It is only intended to make a trial here and to open the eyes of the people to the fact that the time has come for the city to select a site and establish a market place. It goes without saying that the majority of the residents of Ninth street would like to see it somewhere else and that they will not rest until it is somewhere else.

Mr. Goosen has sent letters to one hundred commission merchants of Chicago inviting them to be here to-morrow to meet the farmers and talk business. He has also sent many notices to farmers and a large crowd is expected.

As to-morrow is the first Market Day an elaborate program will be carried out. Here it is:

1. The city marshal will direct the farmers to back their wagons against the wall. Then every body will display their goods in the best possible manner. No goods to be sold until the wagons are placed.
2. Market closed at 8 a. m., then deliver the goods.
3. Farmers meeting at DeGrandwet hall at 9 a. m. Meeting called to order by the chairman.
4. Address by the Hon. Mayor C. J. DeRoos "My interest in Holland Market and Welcome."
5. Hon. Isaac Marselle, "Ye olden Time Market."
6. John C. Post, "Lawyer and Farmer, Why a City Market?"
7. Several farmers and fruit growers will express their views on a public market.

Great Labor Day Address.

A great Labor Day address will be delivered at Jenison Electric Park in the forenoon of the Labor Day celebration by Julius Menke, one of the most noted labor leaders in this country. Mr. Menke is the national organizer of the United Garment Workers of America and will be remembered as the man who successfully conducted the recent big strike in New York City.

Ordinary household accidents have no terrors when there's a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil in the medicine chest. Heals burns, cuts, bruises, sprains, instant relief.

Additional Local.

B. Bloemendahl, janitor of Hope college, has returned from a trip to the Netherlands.

Rev. R. L. Haas, pastor of the Second Christian Reformed church of Muskegon, has received a call from the Christian Reformed church of Birculo.

On account of the improvements being made on some of the buildings, the city schools will not open this year until September 8, a week later than usual.

H. van Kampen, who returned Wednesday from a trip to Europe, brought a souvenir from across the water to Fred Boone. It is a handsome watch chain and is embellished with symbols of interest to horsemen.

Jas. Hynes, who gave his address as Halsted and Harrison streets, Chicago, was assessed one dollar for putting his foot in the new cement curbing on Eighth street Wednesday afternoon. His friends at Virginia Park are indignant, claiming that the amount levied indicates that he wears a number ten shoe.

The Holland Gas company will be ready for business about August 24. The retorts are completed, the tank will be completed at the end of the week and all of the work in the purifying department will be finished in a short time. W. F. Doelker, the solicitor, is meeting with great success in his canvass among the consumers and has taken a large number of orders.

The new Michigan Shore line between St. Joseph, Benton Harbor, South Haven and the Macatawa Bay resorts is proving to be very popular with the traveling public and the steamer Glenn carries a large number of passengers every trip. The Glenn has been remodeled and improved until it is now one of the most commodious and comfortable steamers on the west shore.

At a meeting of those interested in the building of the new Catholic church here held last Tuesday night it was decided to erect a brick structure to cost about $1,500 and a building and soliciting committee was appointed to look after the work. Bishop Richter has decided to call it the St. Francis church. Next Sunday Rev. Father Eickelman will say mass at DeGrandwet hall at 10:30 in the forenoon instead of at 8 o'clock.

Tuesday morning the Chicago yacht Eleanor, headed this way for the regatta, with H. D. Salmon, K. E. Karrady and H. Thwaite aboard, found the waves too boisterous when within two miles of Holland harbor and was driven ashore. Her crew signaled the life savers by saturating their bathing suits with oil and setting them afire, but before the surfmen arrived the boat was beached. After considerable difficulty the life savers put the stranded yacht afloat and brought her to port.

Attlio Pusterla, the inventor of the Whirlpool at Jenison Electric park, was here this week superintending the finishing touches to the Whirlpool. Mr. Pusterla is on his way to St. Louis where he is putting in a Whirlpool for the World's fair. The Whirlpool here is the only one of the kind in the world and if it is successful many like it will be put in the different resorts throughout the country. That it will be a success so far as the running of it is concerned has been demonstrated this week by experiments, and that it will be a money maker goes without question, as it is one of the most unique and interesting entertainment features before the people. It will be ready the first of next week.

Spring Lake is in mourning. One of its most popular young men, Second Engineer Walter Bates, of the Goodrich steamer Georgia, met death accidentally Tuesday at the hands of his best friend, Chief Engineer Charles Bon of the same steamer. The Georgia was at Milwaukee and Bates was standing with his head out of one of the engine room portholes watching the crowd on the dock. Bon stood at his post with his back turned to the second engineer, and he never saw that Bates was standing where he would be crushed if the engines were reversed. There was an order from the pilot house to back the engine, and Bon obeyed it. Bates heard the sound and drew back, just in time to be struck full on the head by the heavy weight. Death was instantaneous. Too busy to notice anything but the signals Bon for a time paid no attention to his friend. Then he turned to speak to him. Bates was lying stretched across a part of the machinery. With a cry which was heard on deck and which brought the stokers tumbling from the hole Bon rushed to the side of his friend. When others reached the spot he was sitting by the body, sobbing and crying and begging his friend to speak. Bates parents are residents of Spring Lake and so is Miss Jessie Friant, the girl to whom he was to have been married at the close of the season. The dead man and his accidental slayer grew up together as boys and had also been close associates through many years of manhood.

Neal Sandy will represent Cook Bros. as traveling salesman in Ottawa and Allegan counties.

The Misses Clara Gertrude McKay, Jeanie E. Jennings, Rena Bylsma, and Eva Wrightman of Holland are taking the teacher's examination at Grand Haven.

Members of Company I. from Wayland, Schoolcraft, Kalamazoo, Allegan, Zeeland, Grand Haven, Fennville and Saugatuck are at Macatawa today attending the company's reunion. The veterans are having a great time.

The funeral services of Miss Laura Cochran took place at Grace Episcopal church Sunday afternoon, Rev. Wm. Johnson officiating. Miss Cochran died at Medina, N. D., and the body was brought here for burial. She was a niece of Mrs. Otto P. Kramer of this city.

Muskegon Chronicle: Miss Grace W. Hoekje, of Fremont, who graduated from Hope college last June and who has been appointed as missionary to South Japan, will give an address in the Holland language on Sunday evening, August 30, in the First Reformed church, Spring street. She is now making a tour of the Reformed churches in Wisconsin.

Hon. D. B. K. Van Raalte, department commander, and Mrs. Van Raalte, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. McBride of this city and Dr. and Mrs. Bos of Elmore left Monday noon for the national encampment of the G. A. R. at San Francisco. The tickets for their trip are good for return until October 15 by any transcontinental railroad, giving an opportunity for a sight seeing trip through the coast states.

Firm and staunch looking in spite of the battle with the waves near Manistee last week, the Mary Ludwig, Capt. Raffenaud in command, entered her home port this week. It takes something more convincing than a summer storm to get the better of "You Felle," for he is one of the best seamen that ever hailed from this port. The deckload of shingles was nearly all recovered so the loss is very slight.

Holland is in the favored district for the locating of the new normal school according to a Detroit despatch which states that Patrick H. Kelly, one of the members of the state board of education, said in an interview that the school will be located somewhere between Niles and Petoskey and that although "Grand Rapids is playing hard for the new school it does not stand the ghost of a chance to get it." The selection of the favored city must be made before September 17.

Another well-attended meeting of the South Ottawa & West Allegan Agricultural Society was held in this city Saturday afternoon to discuss the coming fair which will be held in this city September 27 and 30 and October 1 and 2. Those present were A. B. Bosman, Elder Diekema, John Meeusen, Eugene Fellows, Jas. L. Conkey, A. Hidding, J. H. Boone, J. A. Kooyers, H. Koolker, Dr. W. Van den Berg, G. J. Deur and N. J. Whelan. All of the committees reported favorably on the work assigned them and the indications for a large number of exhibits are exceedingly good. A trip to the fair ground was taken for the purpose of deciding definitely upon some of the improvements that will be made, and to see what work was necessary for the race track. Johnny Boone, who has established a training stable there, will get the track in shape and as the horses will be worked out on it every day it will be in the best of condition for the races. The next meeting of the society will be held Tuesday, September 8.

From a writeup in the Sheboygan Herald concerning Rev. J. J. VanZanten, pastor of the church at Cedar Grove, Wis., the newly appointed educational agent of Hope College, the News takes the following: "Rev. VanZanten preached his farewell sermon last Sunday afternoon to a large congregation. Rev. VanZanten, who has been in our midst for about four years, has a great many friends in this village, not only members of the church but among the people at large. He has shown himself to be honest and faithful in his charges and capable of winning the respect of his fellowmen. It was Rev. VanZanten's aim to build an academy which was necessary for the higher education of the young people and he has seen the undertaking of which he was promoter prove successful and the Wisconsin Memorial Academy stands today, free of debt, proving a great help for the future of our community. Rev. VanZanten left last Tuesday for Holland, Mich., to take up his new field of work and next Sunday, Aug. 9th, will preach at Morrison, Ill., from which place he will go to Orange City, Iowa, the first city of his labor for higher education. Mrs. VanZanten and family will remain here until September when they will move to Holland, Mich."

Attention United Workmen. There will be a special meeting of the Ancient Order of United Workmen in Odd Fellows hall on Saturday evening, August 32. All members are requested to be present as a class will be initiated with the screen work, which will be given by the Grand Rapids lodge, which will be present with the necessary paraphernalia. Wm. Baumgartel, M. W. Picnic of Farmers Clubs. The farmers clubs of Ottawa and Allegan counties will hold a picnic Tuesday, the 25th of August at Macatawa Park. Every farmer is invited to attend this basket picnic. The G. R., H. & L. M. Ry. have given reduced rates of 10 cents return trip. Every farmer should come and enjoy a day's outing. Tickets will be sold by the Pres., G. J. Deur, or at the office of John Huizenga. By order of Committee.

Mrs. J. F. Dryden, who is visiting in Holland, has made arrangements to have a special car meet the Pere Marquette train tomorrow morning and convey the ladies of the Treble Clef from that city to Saugatuck and return with them in the afternoon in time for the evening train home.—Allegan News.

At a meeting of the directors of the Ottawa County Building & Loan association last Wednesday night the following officers were elected: President—G. J. Diekema. Vice president—B. H. Habermann. Secretary L. M. Thurber. Treasurer—C. VerSchure. Attorney—G. J. Diekema.

Miss Alvena Dishong of Jamestown, and Geo. H. Nash, Jr., of this city, were united in marriage last night at the home of Will Nash on West Twelfth street in the presence of relatives and intimate friends by Justice VanDuren. After the ceremony a reception was held and elaborate refreshments were served.

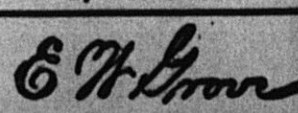

George French was a trusty at the house of troubles in Grand Haven, and turning contrary to the rules laid down, found his way out. Marshal VanderHaar found him here and after considerable forcible persuasion took him under the protecting arm of the law and started him on the city lockup route to the Grand Haven detention hospital there to remain until the expiration of his sentence.

E. S. Holkeboer, the contractor, was seriously injured by a fall yesterday afternoon while working on a house he is building for M. Van Putten on First avenue. He fell from the top story to the first floor and then through into the basement a distance of sixteen feet in all. His head and shoulders struck on the loose boards on the first floor and broke somewhat the force of the fall below. The shock of the fall made him unconscious and for a time after consciousness returned he was delirious. Dr. Leenhous, who attended him, said this noon that the delirium has passed and that he is resting quite comfortably. His lungs were badly jarred by the fall and he suffered other internal injuries but the doctor says that though his condition is serious, he will soon recover.

Because they were given boiled potatoes with the "jackets" on instead of mashed, as they had demanded, six of the firemen on the steamship Eastland of South Haven mutinied yesterday when the big passenger boat was in mid lake, leaving her at the mercy of wind and wave for half an hour. Then the passengers did the firing. Failing to persuade the men to resume their duties by the use of friendly argument, Captain Pereue and his officers armed with revolvers, arrested the strikers and locked them in a room under close guard. When the Eastland reached her dock at South Haven the six men were arrested as they stepped ashore by United States Deputy Marshal Fred Stampton. They will be prosecuted under the United States mutiny law.

Attention United Workmen. There will be a special meeting of the Ancient Order of United Workmen in Odd Fellows hall on Saturday evening, August 32. DAISIES.

Dear one, I send you a flower
Fresh from a fragrant field;
With heart of purest, shining gold,
Set in a snowy shield,
To bring to you the love and thoughts
My heart must ever yield.

Its petals white are purest thoughts,
I think, dear one, of you;
My love, the golden heart you see,
All wet with glistening dew,
So like my tears when you are gone,
And oft I grieve for you.

I counted: "Love me, love me not,"
And as the sky's above me,
The petals that I counted last,
Smiled as it whispered: "Loves me."
And all the flowers a chorus sang
Of "Loves me, loves me, loves me!"

Oh, could I send a thousand flowers,
All wet with glistening dew;
And call them all with the perfect hours,
I've spent, dear love, with you;
They could not show more hearts of gold
Than I have hearts for you.

So keep the little flower I send,
And read its meaning o'er;
One of a thousand daisies sweet,
I'll twine with thousands more,
And make a chain to bind your heart
To mine for evermore.

Her Perfumed Hair — By — LESLIE W. QUIRK

(Copyright, 1902, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

I WOKE up suddenly, with a queer pain in my head. It throbbed and throbbed till I could have cried out at the torture. Lashing around in my bed, I turned over and looked into the face of a girl, close at hand.

She was undeniably pretty, with black hair and eyes, a red mouth and two delicately pink cheeks. She smiled when I looked at her.

"Well, Jack, how goes it this morning?" she asked.

"I—I beg your pardon," I said. To the best of my knowledge I had never seen the girl before. Yet here she was, at my bedside, speaking to me with the familiarity of an old friend.

"I am glad you are better," she whispered, almost in my ear. Then she added another word that made me open my eyes wide—"sweetheart!"

I suppose she saw the startled look on my face, for she sat up with a merry little laugh and beckoned to a nurse.
I looked around in dismay. On either side of me was a row of white cots, with nurses moving silently among them.
I was in a hospital.

"Well, old man, alive to the world at last!" said a hearty voice, and I saw a man bending over me. "Rose was beginning to think you would never

HE LAID HER HAND IN MINE FOR A MINUTE.

know her again." He pinched the cheek, teasingly, and she turned away with a little blush.

I stared at him blankly.
"We are going to take you away from here," he went on. "And do you know what day it is?"

I shook my head.
"Thursday, the 30th of May, 1903."
"What?" I raised myself out of the cot in my excitement.

"Thursday, the 30th of May, 1903," he repeated. "Don't you remember? It is your wedding day!"

The queer pain was racking my head frightfully now, and I sank back on the cot. Was I crazy? The last thing I remembered was returning home from the club last night—or, rather, on the night of the 23d of June, 1902, nearly a year before. And this was to be my wedding day! Why, it was impossible.
I was not engaged; I—who was the girl? Then I caught a pair of roguish black eyes looking at me, and I lay very still, pondering, not at all ill-pleased.

Two men took me out to a closed carriage, supporting me as I walked, for I was very weak. They opened the door carefully, and I climbed in and sank back on the soft cushions. Then an arm—a soft, warm, plump arm—crept about my neck, and I was drawn toward a woman. Her hair smelled of wild flowers that bloom in the springtime, and her touch was tender and caressing. The perfume crept into my brain and intoxicated me, and I leaned over and kissed her full upon the red lips.

At last the carriage stopped, and I was helped to the ground. The man who had spoken to me at the hospital, and who had been riding outside, paid the driver and dismissed him. Then he and the woman and I went into the building, which proved to be a hotel.

My head was getting clearer now, and I looked about me, wondering what it all meant. We took an elevator to the second floor, and were ushered into a handsome parlor. Hardly had the door closed upon us before the girl looked up at the man inquiringly.

"Shall I dress now, brother?"

"Yes, Rose."

She laid her hand in mine for a minute, and then walked toward a door at the other side of the room. The swish, swish of her dress seemed to beckon me on, and I started after her.

The man held out a restraining hand.
"Wait," he said, with a smile; "she will be yours in an hour."

After she had gone, I turned to him.
"What does this all mean?" I asked.
"You have been sick for a month," he said, slowly, "and I am afraid you have suffered a lapse of memory."

"Sick?" I repeated, dully.
"Yes. At one time we despaired of your life. Your brain seemed on fire, and you were filled with all sorts of queer fancies. You did not know me, nor Rose."

"Rose?"
"Yes; your fiancée."

"My fiancée! Why, man, I never saw her before!"

He smiled, a little sadly, and said, gently, as he might to a child: "You have been very sick, and you have forgotten many things. You have been engaged to my sister for nearly six months, and you set to-day for your marriage. Can't you remember?"

I pressed my hand over my aching head.

"No," I said. "Does she expect me to marry her to-day?" I nodded toward the other room, and thought of the laughing black eyes and the hair that smelled of flowers that bloom in the springtime.

"Of course," he said. "You, she wishes to be your wife, even if you can't remember all that has happened."

I said nothing. I was mad with love for the girl, and yet I felt I had no right to make her marry a man who had lost all memory of having known her in the past.

"Does she want the ceremony to take place?" I asked.

"Does she? Why, man, can't you see the love light in her eyes, and the passion in every move she makes?
Can't you feel it when she takes your hand in hers? Don't you know it by her very presence?"

"Then," I said, looking him full in the face, "then all the men in Christendom can't keep us from becoming husband and wife."

"Jack!" he cried, "I am proud of you. There isn't another man in the whole world I'd rather have for a brother-in-law. I'll get the preacher at once, and we will have a quiet ceremony here in the parlor."

Rose came in from the other room just then. Straight to me she walked, and placed her two hands confidently in mine. The man leaned over us with a "God bless you, children," and then slipped out into the hall.

The preacher, white-haired and saintly, came back with him, and we stood up, ready to be married.

I don't remember when I heard the noise first. I think I was watching Rose's brother, and that his frightened face was my first intimation of the trouble. Then I heard a tramp of many feet, and a knocking on our door.
I threw my arm protectively about the girl.

"Come in!" I shouted.

Before I had spoken the words, the door opened. The first man to enter was my brother. After him came two burly officers of the law.

"My God, Jack," he cried, as he saw our position. "It isn't too late?"

"Too late for what?" I demanded, white with anger at the interruption.

"You aren't—aren't married?"

"No," I said, "but I will be in five minutes. Stand back, and let the ceremony proceed."

He sprang forward. "You will never marry that woman," he declared.

"Can't you see, you fool, that she is no fit wife for you?"

"But she loves me," I said, weakly, seeking an excuse.

"Yes," he sneered; "she loves you, as she loves any man who will bring her money. And you, with your inheritance of uncle's, will make a capital husband for her."

"My inheritance?" I repeated, pushing away the girl to look at her; "my inheritance—"

Then, like a flash, it all came back to me. I had been notified of the death of my uncle, with a will that left all of his rich property to me. I had heard of it only yesterday—or was it last year?"

"What day of the month is this?" I demanded.

"June 24, 1902," answered my brother.

Then I saw the trick. It had all been planned, from the smallest detail. In some way they had learned of my inheritance, had calmly kidnapped me from my own lodgings, and had put up the cock-and-bull story of my sickness, after drugging me with some memory-destroying concoction. The plan was so bold that it had almost succeeded.

I looked at the girl. The brown eyes leered at me malevolently, the red lips and the pink cheeks were plainly painted, the black hair was snarled and stiff, and smelled of sickening perfume.

"Rose," I said.

"Not Rose," interrupted an officer, stepping forward and snapping the handcuffs on her wrists, "but Mag

Smith, variety actress, confidence woman and—worse."

And they led her away.

A Wedding Innovation.

English wedding customs and fashions are considered very smart on this side of the water, but not many of them have been carried into practice. At the recent wedding of Lady

Juliet Lowther, the daughter of Lady de Gray, to Mr. Plum, the bride's mother, gorgeously gowned, reached the church nearly an hour before the time set for the nuptials. She stood in the front part of the nave and greeted and received her friends as they came in.

Mary Knoll from Laketown and Lydia Mulder from Grand Rapids. Refreshments were served.

Last Wednesday Mrs. E. Werkman of East Eleventh street celebrated her 83rd birthday anniversary. Children, grand children, and great grand children were present to enjoy the event.
The pleasant home was a scene of happiness, the respected old lady joining in the amusements with the younger generation. Her many friends wish that many more years of health and contentment may be added to her life.

ODD SYSTEMS OF CURING.

Staying for Days in a Tub and Rubbing with Olive Oil, Exclusive Grape Diet, Etc.

Here are a number of odd systems of curing disease which are now practiced in New York city, reports the World.

The grape cure consists in reverting to a diet exclusively of grapes for several days at a time. It is much practiced in Europe. Patients go to the vineyards of the south and spend ten days there, eating the grapes all day long.

The fruit cure largely used in this country, is merely a modification of the grape cure.

Allied to the grape and fruit cures are the two-meals-a-day, one-meal-a-day and the fasting cures.

A somewhat similar cure is the milk treatment, advocated and practiced quite extensively in New York city. Its disciples prescribe an exclusive diet of milk—as much in certain cases as two or three gallons a day.

The bathtub cure, largely practiced in Germany, but also in occasional use here, is a modification of one of Knapp's systems. The patient's body is immersed in water at blood heat, and he remains there for days at a time, even sleeping in the water. The cure is of special efficacy in the treatment of burns, scalds and other external wounds.

Of baths there is an almost infinite variety used therapeutically. The Turkish, Persian and Russian baths are familiar. The needle bath is another.

The recently developed light treatment is assuming important proportions. It has many forms and is especially used where disease is known to have a bacterial origin.

An important class of cures includes hypnotism, suggestive therapeutics and magnetic healing. Related to these methods also is Christian Science.

The National Health league is a million-dollar corporation formed for the promulgation of the nature cure. This includes many methods of treatment, but its central idea is the study of healthy conditions and the attainment of them by normal methods.

Complete rest is the cure-all devised by a prominent Philadelphia physician.
He advocates an occasional week spent in bed under conditions favorable to the least possible exhaustion of vitality.

The olive oil cure is widely practiced.
Pure oil is used externally with rubbing and internally as nourishment.

Deep breathing is claimed by many to be a specific in all manner of disease.
The theory is that perfect aeration of the lungs means healthy blood and consequent health of all the tissues.

Physical culture is a very important branch of therapeutics. Its advocates claim that with regular exercise intelligently directed, and, as an essential accessory, right eating and drinking, the body may be kept in normal condition.

The treatment of certain diseases by baking the body in a special oven has recently been practiced with success.

The lean-meat cure is another system of dietetics.

All Found Guilty.

Boston, Aug. 7.—The trial of William Monroe Trotter, editor of the Boston Guardian; Granville Martin and Bernard Charles, charged with disturbing a meeting in the Columbus avenue A.
M. E. Zion church, which was addressed by Booker T. Washington on the night of July 30, resulted in all three defendants being found guilty. Sentences were delayed.

NELSON A. MILES. acknowledges his appreciation of the delity manifested by the officers and soldiers during the past eventful years.
To those who were his companions and associates during one of the greatest of all wars, he takes pleasure in expressing his gratification that they have lived through the trials and dangers of long service to witness the results of their fortitude, heroism and unselfish devotion to the welfare of their country.

Many Responsibilities.
Since its organization the army has been charged with a great variety of responsibilities, all subordinate to defending the country and maintaining the rights of its citizens. In the discharge of its manifold duties the army has confronted enemies representing every stage of human development from the highest civilization yet obtained to savagery and barbarism. It has ever been its duty to observe in war those chivalric and humane principles by which inevitable horrors are so greatly mitigated, while by unyielding prosecution of warfare against armed forces its valor has been demonstrated.

Has Faith in the Army.
Marked changes at different times have occurred in the strength and organization of the army, resulting from diverse influences, and various experiments have been tried. Time has rectified errors in the past and will do so in the future.

The lieutenant general has faith that under all circumstances the army will maintain its high character, and that its future will be as honorable and glorious as has been its history in the past.
His earnest solicitude and best wishes will ever follow the fortunes of the army.

Young in Command.
Washington, Aug. 10.—At 12 o'clock Saturday Lieut. Gen. Young issued an order in accordance with the order of the president assuming command of the army of the United States. Previously Gen. Young had taken oath of office in the war department.

Prisoners Mutiny.
Carthage, Mo., Aug. 12.—Fifty prisoners in the county jail mutinied at midnight and made a demand for better food. The fire department was called out and turned a stream of water on the prisoners, who, after turning the lights out in the corridors hurled empty bottles at the firemen and jail officials. One deputy was cut in the face. The prisoners were finally subdued.

Well-Known Marksmen Dead.
Boston, Aug. 12.—B. L. Woodward, who had a national reputation as a trap shooter, is dead at his home in Brockton, aged 38. He was considered one of the best marksmen in the country, and was a member of the All-American team which took part in the international shooting contests two years ago in England.

Killed by a Fall.
Decatur, Ill., Aug. 7.—Mrs. Joseph Shoaf, aged 79, was killed by a fall here.
Her father was Dennis Hanks, a cousin of Abraham Lincoln, who taught Lincoln to read and write. Mrs. Shoaf's husband was a pioneer editor in Illinois.

NINE PERSONS KILLED.

And Many More Are Injured by the Fall of a Sidewalk at Ball Park in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 10.—Nine persons were killed, at least 12 fatally injured, and fully 300 seriously hurt Saturday afternoon by the fall of a walk overhanging the left field bleachers at the Philadelphia National league baseball park.

In the neighborhood of 20 people were on the walk at the time of its collapse, and plunged with it 20 feet into the street. In an instant the scene just outside the grounds was one of horror. For an entire block along Fifteenth street, from Huntington street to Lehigh avenue, men and boys lay in writhing heaps.
The accident was one of the most appalling in recent years, and among scores of bleeding men and boys quickly taken to hospitals it is feared that fully a dozen will not be able to survive their terrible injuries. The deaths are as follows: Edward Graham, Alfred Rodgers, Edward Williamson, Matthew P. Reed, George Cunningham, Joseph Edgar,
Nicholas Moses, Robert Kling and William Graham.

Fatally injured: Peter Barrett, Thomas Kane, Joseph Larkin, Douglass
McCauley, John Murphy, Joseph Mc-Conaghy, Joseph McGarrille, Lewis Mc-Grath, Nicholas Moser, John Radcliffe, A. D. Robinson, W. Snyder, Jacob Stein.

RECEIVES PAPAL CROWN.

Ceremony of Coronation of Pius X.
Takes Place in St. Peter's Church in Rome.

Rome, Aug. 10.—The ceremony of the coronation of Pope Pius X. took place Sunday in the basilica of St.
Peter's in the presence of the princes and high dignitaries of the church, diplomats and Roman nobles, and with all the solemnity and splendor associated with this, the most magnificent rite in the Roman Catholic church.

As Cardinal Macchi, the dean of the cardinal-deacons, placed the triple crown upon the head of the venerable pontiff the throng of 70,000 persons gathered within the cathedral burst into unrestrained acclamations, the choir intoned a hymn of triumph and the bells of Rome rang out a joyful peal.

Rome, Aug. 12.—Pope Pius X. fainted yesterday morning at the altar in the Pauline chapel during the celebration of mass when he was administering the sacrament to over 300 Venetians who were present, but he soon recovered and was able to walk to his apartments. The pope has overexhausted himself in the ceremonies of his new position.

BROKE ALL RECORDS.

Special Train Runs from New York to California in 70 Hours and 21 Minutes.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 8.—At 1:06 o'clock Friday afternoon the special train bearing Henry P. Lowe, chief engineer of the United States Steel corporation, drew in at La Grande station, having completed a run from the Atlantic to the Pacific, a distance of more than 3,200 miles, in the fastest time on record. Mr. Lowe left New York on Tuesday, August 4, at 2:45 p. m. and arrived in Los Angeles 70 hours and 21 minutes later.

The record-breaking run was undertaken to gain the bedside of his 11-year-old daughter, who was dying in Los Angeles. The child died early Thursday morning, but Mr. Lowe was not advised of her death until well on his way.

Date Is Set.
St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 12.—Adj. Gen.
E. D. Libbey has received word from the national guard of Illinois, accepting September 21 as the date for the interstate rifle contest for the Washburn trophy. Wisconsin and Iowa had previously accepted the date, and the shoot will be held at Camp Lakeview, near Lake City, Minn. The trophy is now in the possession of the Illinois guardsmen and has not been contested for some years.

Behanded Her Girls.
Columbia, S. C., Aug. 10.—Rizzie Alken, a negro woman 40 years old, was committed to jail here for behanding her two daughters, three and five years old. The heads were severed with an axe, and she threw them into a fire.
The woman admitted the crime, saying she had received a message from God ordering the crime.

Return to Work.
Philadelphia, Aug. 11.—It is estimated that 12,000 operatives in the textile trade reported for duty Monday at various mills and a similar number, it is expected, will resume work today. This is the first serious break in the textile workers' strike, which has been in progress since June 1.

Italians Drowned.
Norway, Mich., Aug. 10.—Five Italians were drowned at Vulcan, two miles from Norway. The accident was caused by the capsizing of the boat containing the men, 100 yards from shore. All were single men except one, who had a wife in Italy.

FACTS REGARDING JEWISH MASSACRES

Report of British Vice Consul, Sent to Kishineff to Investigate Recent Riots.

AGREES IN GENERAL WITH FIRST STORIES OF THE OCCURRENCES

Belief Prevalent That Murders Were Work of Companies Organized to Exterminate the Jews — Victims Placed at 41 Killed and Over 300 Wounded.

London, Aug. 12.—A dispatch from the British consul general at Odessa, forwarding the report made by the British vice consul at Odessa, V. Bosan-quet, who was sent specially to Kish-ineff to obtain the facts regarding the recent anti-Jewish riots there, was published Wednesday.

Mr. Bosanquet's report, which is dated July 28, generally agrees with the stories of the occurrences. It says:

"The area of the disturbances comprised two-thirds of the town of Kish-ineff. The murders all occurred on Monday, the second day of the disturbances. They were perpetrated by bands of rioters in different parts of the town. Many believe they were the work of organized companies, which fact argues in favor of a prearranged conspiracy to exterminate the Jews. If this belief is not accepted, the riots must be attributed to the articles in the Bessarabetz, the anti-Semitic organ in Kish-ineff, to the unfounded report of the Jewish murder of a Christian priest, to the wine drunk early on Monday, and to the belief which seems to have grown with the continued inaction of the authorities, that the latter wished the Jews to be massacred or even ordered it. Apparently, a feeling existed among the lower classes that the Jews ought not to be in a majority in Kishineff.

"The local authorities took no effective step to stop the riots. The soldiers were passive if not sympathetic spectators. The police contented themselves with the arrest of the minor criminals until after four o'clock in the afternoon, when the governor, who had remained at home, telephoning orders which were disregarded, at length ventured to sign the necessary order for the troops to be employed. The only case I heard of in which the latter used their weapons was when they bayoneted a Christian boy who was pursuing a Jew with stones. This boy was the only Christian killed during the disturbances. If resolute action had been taken by the authorities I believe the riots would have been checked at an early stage."

Mr. Bosanquet places the Jewish victims at 41 killed and 303 wounded, while among the Christians one was killed and 68 wounded.

About 880 rioters were arrested and 308 were punished on minor charges, while 216 were acquitted. Three hundred and sixty rioters will be tried at Tiraspol in October, of which number 100 are charged with murder in addition to other crimes. If they are found guilty they will be sentenced to penal servitude on the island Sakhalin.

WORK OF THE HURRICANE.

Later Reports of Jamaica Storm Say Losses Will Run Into the Millions.

Kingston, Jamaica, Aug. 12 (delayed in transmission).—The hurricane only the fringe of which struck the western end of Jamaica yesterday and which it was thought had passed, instead of proceeding to the northwest veered to the south early this morning and struck Jamaica with its full force, inflicting damage which it will take years to repair. Owing to the interruption of telegraphic communication it is impossible as yet to estimate the amount of the losses, but they must reach millions of dollars.

Every banana plantation in the eastern half of the island has been devastated. The situation in the western half is unknown. Considerable injury was done to property in Kingston and the suburbs. The roof of the electric light works was blown off and the machinery was disabled. Railroad traffic was interrupted and the street cars were stopped. Many houses were damaged by falling trees.

No loss of life is yet reported.

Pays Heavy Duties.
New York, Aug. 12.—Reginald C.
Vanderbilt, who has just returned from a European trip with his bride, paid $8,000 in duty to the collector of the port of Boston. This is the largest collection ever made from a returned tourist at that port. It is said the examiners checked up Mr. Vanderbilt's declaration item by item, requiring two hours to go through 40 trunks which the couple brought in.

King Leaves England.

London, Aug. 12.—King Edward sailed Wednesday from Port Victoria, at the mouth of the Thames, on the royal yacht Victoria and Albert for Flushing, whence he will go direct to Marienbad, to take the waters for a fortnight. He will travel incognito, as duke of Lancaster, until August 31, when he will proceed to Vienna to pay his accession visit to Emperor Francis Joseph.

Sir Lipton Banqueted.

New York, Aug. 12.—The directors of the maritime exchange gave a reception and banquet to Sir Thomas Lipton Wednesday at the exchange. Sir Thomas was greeted enthusiastically when he was introduced to the members by President Parsons, to whose greeting he responded briefly.

SWORDFISH KILLS WHALE.

Fierce Battle Between Monsters of the Deep Witnessed by Steamer Passengers.

A sanguinary battle between deep sea monsters, in which a whale was killed by a "thrasher," aided by a swordfish, was witnessed by the officers of the Pacific Coast Steamship company's City of Topeka on the last trip of that vessel. The battle was fought at the entrance of Queen Charlotte sound. When it was over the water for several hundred yards around was red with blood, says a Seattle report.

First Officer J. S. Lawrence, in telling of it, said:

"The swordfish was not visible during the fight, but from what I know of similar battles, it is probable that he was underneath the water engaged in prodding the whale. Every time the swordfish, which is generally 12 or 14 feet long, struck the monster the monster would rise out of the water. The 'thrasher' would jump completely out of the sea, and, spinning around on its head for a few seconds until it had the head of the whale located, it would then descend with a splash that looked like a building toppling into the sea and strike the whale. The latter would then start to sound or dive, but the swordfish would prod it from underneath until it rose out of the water to again be struck by the thrasher.

"This was repeated time and time again. The noise of the fight was loud enough to be heard for miles. Eventually the whale began to spout streams of blood, and, as the passengers passed out of sight, his awkward motions became feebler and feebler."

UNSELFISH PHYSICIANS.

No Other Profession Gives More for Nothing to the Public Than the Medical.

There is a disposition often to scoff at the code of ethics by which doctors of medicine are governed—at the rule which brands as a quack any practitioner who keeps for his own exclusive use and profit any discovery he may make of a curative agent. Yet there is no other profession which gives more for nothing to the public, and whose giving in that respect is absolutely without selfish motive, says the Cleveland Leader.

This is illustrated by a recent statement to the effect that the revenues of the medical profession in recent years have practically been cut in two by the hygienic reforms which have been brought about by the efforts of the doctors alone. That statement is well within the realm of truth. Medical science is constantly striving to make it possible for the human race to get along with less medical treatment. Not only are the efforts of investigators directed to the discovery of new and more effective remedies for disease, but to discover means of preventing the spread and even the inception of disease. Broadly speaking, the doctors are working continually to deprive themselves of occupation and revenue.

A LIFE-SAVING KITE.

Appliance to Be Carried on Shipboard to Establish Communication When Stranded.

Of late years the kite has emerged from the position of a mere toy, and has been successfully employed for meteorological observations at high altitudes. A more recent application of the kite-principle is as a life-saving appliance to be carried on shipboard, its particular duty being to establish communication between a stranded vessel and the adjacent shore. It stands to reason that a ship in this position generally has the assistance of the wind in carrying anything shorewards, and it would be far easier to launch a kite under such conditions than it would be to fire a rocket in the reverse direction. The kite carries a guide-rope, and contains in a pocket a set of signals and instructions. It is furnished with apparatus for telephonic communication between the crew and their would-be rescuers. But we must confess that, seeing the frequent difficulty of telephonic conversation ashore in a quiet office, we can hardly believe that it would be possible in a howling tempest. The kite is the invention of the Comte Brossard, and it is said to have been tried with success at Toulon and at Brest.

TACT IN MEDICAL PROFESSION.

As Necessary as Skill in Many Cases That Come Under the Doctor's Advice.

To succeed in the practice of medicine tact is as necessary as skill. In Everybody's Magazine a woman doctor tells of the loss of her first opportunity: "A delicate young woman came fluffing into my office on a wet, raw day to know why she had such a cold. I looked down at her thin ties and openwork stockings, and expressed myself with comfortable freedom. How could she expect anything else with such foot-gear? She took my prescriptions in displeased silence and never came back. I heard that she described me afterward as quite too cold and unsympathetic to be a good doctor; and so perhaps I lost others as well as her. I had been right, of course, from the highest standpoint; but that is a luxury no young doctor can afford. I should have petted her, babbled her, listened to all her troubles, and introduced the matter of foot-gear so delicately that she would be drawn away from open-work by the siren thread of persuasion."

THE COWGIRL MISJUDGED.

Lady of the Western Ranges Is Unjustly Treated by Eastern Publications.

The cowgirl, as portrayed in eastern papers and magazines, is invariably a rough, uncouth person astride a mangy old horse of doubtful years and habits, says a western exchange.

From her slouch hat to the tips of her rusty boots untidiness prevails.

Her free and easy manner make her a laughing stock for people of the more refined sort.

The mannish grasp of the hand with which she welcomes her friends is a point to be ridiculed by her more delicate sister of the east.

Her striding tread betokens coarseness of mind as well as of body.

The easy, careless manner with which she discusses with those of the opposite sex is enough in itself to give one the incurable horrors.

The way in which she swings her skirt and strikes her vicious steed a resounding whack would make her eastern cousin shiver with disgust.

Taking her all around, she is an untidy, coarse-voiced wonder.

To be stared at, but never on any account spoken to.

But wait—we have seen only one side of the picture, for your true western girl is none of this.

True, she is free and easy in her manner, but there is added an exquisite grace of character which cannot be rivaled by her affected sister of the east.

The "mannish hand-clasp" with which she greets one is full of that free good will and enviable frankness which characterizes only pure and noble natures.

Her swinging walk speaks of a sound, healthy body, which, therefore, cannot but be well posed and beautiful in its every line.

The "easy, careless manner" in which she talks to God's children of the other sex is only another characteristic of her pure mind and trusting nature.

The heavy rawhide girth is a reality, but not a necessity, in the life of the cowgirl, for the very sufficient reason that she generally possesses a good, free horse to which the whip is as much a superfluity as is the fifth wheel to a wagon. And, too, your true cowgirl would as soon think of striking her grandmother as of striking her horse.

I have seen this much-talked-of person in all the phases of her simple life, and I cannot but admire that lithe, graceful figure as she goes swinging off on her clean-limbed mount with an ease and grace born only of a life in the saddle.

I have seen a so-called "cowgirl" flying madly over the prairies on a mettlesome thoroughbred, taking ditches, fences and everything that came in the path of her leaping, rearing steed, in pursuit of some horse or cow, and within the next half hour she would come cantering up to us sitting on her horse with a certain grace of oneness, like a centaur, and slipping to the ground with the reins thrown loosely over the saddle and the shapely white hand laid lovingly on her pet's glossy, foam-covered neck and extend a firm, well-molded hand to welcome me to her home. And as she stands there, the evening sun shining full on her well-rounded form, I cannot but thank God that we have at least a few of these goddesses of the plains that we may get a glimpse of what true nature is like.

For in my opinion this girl with her jaunty riding hat, her neatly fitting gloves, her shapely, well-dressed feet and her weather-proof complexion, is far worthier to be called a lady than the most celebrated beauty in any fashionable city of the east. In my opinion, nothing could be so natural, so unaffected and altogether so undeniably splendid as this natural production of the west.

FRUIT VERSUS WATER.

For Hot Days, Ripe, Juicy Fruit Will Prove the More Satisfying and Refreshing.

It is a common experience that the more one drinks the more thirsty we become. It is a great temptation in hot weather to pour down fluids in excessive quantities, but it is also a great mistake, because it makes us feel worse than before drinking, says American Queen.

A reasonable amount of good, ripe fruit will go much further toward relieving thirst and cooling the blood, for fruit contains sufficient water and does not produce the feeling of distress that too much water always does.

The flavoring of fruits also stimulates the appetite and aids digestion. Besides, the juices of fresh-cut fruit are entirely free from microbes.

In proportion as fruit enters into the diet indulgence in alcohol diminishes. A slice of lemon squeezed into water as preparatory to a meal is a great improvement on bitters and "cocktails," besides being, dietetically speaking, very rational.

When fruits are freely used in the diet, less fluid is required and the stomach is the gainer.

It is not to be understood, however, that water in reason is not absolutely essential to a proper performance of the bodily functions. The body requires a regular washing out, which cannot be accomplished with less than a quart a day. But for the hot days, when two gallons would not relieve any more than would a cupful, the substitution of ripe, juicy fruit is to be desired.

Cherry Glace.

Boil one quart of water and one pint of sugar together for 15 minutes then add one heaping teaspoonful of granulated gelatine. When cold add the juice of two lemons, the stiffly whipped white of one egg, four tablespoonfuls of sugar and four tablespoonfuls of whipped cream. Put a little of this at a time into individual molds. When firm, cover with sweetened, pitted cherries and another layer of the gelatine mixture. Continue in this way until the molds are full. Chill and serve with whipped cream.—Country Gentleman.

CAUSE OF WESTERN FLOODS.

Meteorologist Says the Recent Downpour Is Due to West Indian Volcanoes.

The scientific explanation of the unprecedented rains in Kansas is that they are caused by the eruptions a year ago of Mont Pelee, Soufriere and other volcanoes. Capt. Ives, signal officer of the department of the Colorado, and a scientist of note in the United States army, advances this theory, says the Denver Post.

"The violent eruptions of Mont Pelee, the Soufriere and other volcanoes a year ago are undoubtedly the cause of the heavy rains in Kansas that are responsible for the disastrous floods," says Capt. Ives to-day. "Rain must have a nucleus, a beginning. There is something that causes rain, of course. We know it is condensations. The volcanoes spout up vast clouds of ashes, sending them far into the upper strata where there are no clouds. To what height these ashes were sent is purely conjectural. It is certain they went far above the cloud limit.

"Currents have taken these ashes a vast distance, and they have, as is were, accommodated themselves to the revolution of the world.

"These ashes attained a certain height. Then there was a resistance that stopped them and they began settling. They passed, naturally, through the most distant strata of clouds. They condensed water, plainly stated, and opened vast clouds and created more condensations, and finally the lower strata of the clouds were reached and then came this deluge of water upon the western slope of the Mississippi valley. That Kansas has not got the full effect is attested by heavy rains in Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri and other states and snows in the mountains of Colorado, but Kansas appears to be the center of the downpour.

"I do not know how long this will continue. There can be no doubt that the accumulation of moisture in rain is enormous. As never in the history of the world were there such eruptions of volcanoes, so, it is now said, have there never been such rains as those that have fallen in Kansas, 15 inches, for instance, falling in Abilene in one day. There was naturally an amount of ashes thrown out of the volcanoes that cannot be estimated. It is beyond estimation, and naturally this means unprecedented rains."

OUR 7,000 LAW-MAKERS.

Interesting Statistics Relating to the Legislatures of the Different States.

There are very nearly 7,000 members of the legislatures of American states, exclusive of territorial legislatures—36 in Arizona, 36 in New Mexico and 39 in Oklahoma. Of the 7,000, 3,725 are republicans and 3,124 democrats.

New Hampshire, one of the smallest of the states in voting population, has a legislature of 419 members, whereas Ohio, one of the largest states, has a legislative membership of only 143.

There is no state in which there are no democratic members of the legislature. There are several states which have no republican representation in their legislatures, says the New York Sun.

There are no republicans in the legislatures of Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina—the three states in which the colored population preponderates. There is only one republican in Florida and only one in the Texas legislature, and two only in the legislature of Arkansas.

The closest legislature is that of Colorado, control of which on joint ballot is still in dispute. The democrats have a majority in one house and the republicans in the other.

In the Georgia legislature there are as many populists as republicans; in Mississippi there are two populists and no republicans. The South Dakota legislature has only ten democratic members to 122 republicans, and the Michigan legislature has 11 democrats to 121 republicans.

The Delaware and the Nevada legislatures have the same number of members, 51 each. There are 205 republican members of the legislature in Connecticut, six more than the republicans have in Pennsylvania, and there are two more democratic legislators in Virginia than there are republican legislators in New York.

WHITE LINES IN FINGER-NAILS

German Medical Expert Says They Are an Indication of Degeneracy.

A medical writer in the Frankfurter Zeitung gives some curious particulars about the white lines which cross finger nails. These are signs of disturbance in the organism at the time they were formed. They often form during serious illness.

The proportion of normally constituted persons who have these lines on their finger nails is from ten to 11 per cent., while 46 per cent. of criminals have them, 47 per cent. of the demi-monde, 43 per cent. of idiots, and 50 per cent. of lunatics. Sufferers from melancholia show a large percentage, but the largest percentage—75—is among those who are periodically dangerous lunatics.

The writer comes to the conclusion that these lines denote some degeneracy of the upper nervous system; that they are not purely physical, but are connected with physical, moral, and intellectual change.

Indians Never Numerous.

Ethnologists are of the opinion that when America was discovered there were not on the continent of North America any more Indians than exist now.

Chicago Edgars Swamped.

The sea was not heavy enough to give the Chicago Edgars that tired feeling when they came over on the Graham & Morton steamer to meet Holland on the diamond Saturday afternoon so they were in fine shape for a corking contest. Shape did not cut any figure though and they were simply toymen in the hands of the Holland boys who played circles around them at will and defeated them by a score of 10 to 2. Karsten impaled the Metropolitans on the hooks with the first ball thrown and held them there until the welcome end.

Will Vandenberg, the third member of the family that has helped to make base ball famous in Holland, played short in good style. He has the base ball stuff and will be heard from in the highest company before long.

Outplayed at Ionia.

Holland's team, crippled by the absence of Ball and Andrews, was no match for the Ionia Tiger Killers at Ionia Wednesday and went under by a score of 12 to 5. The Ionians batted Karsten freely while Buck White was at his best and was a puzzle to the Hollanders.

Holland Wins.

Ionia played a good game yesterday afternoon, and Holland played a little better. Result: Holland 7, Ionia 6. Umpire, Verschure.

Luther, the yellow-haired, slight built, left-hander from Hart was in the box for Holland and did better than did Thomas for Ionia, although at that he was batted pretty freely. Mahan of Muskegon has been signed and played right field and Brown of Grand Rapids played third.

Ionia started the music in the first. Shippe was a trifle slow and got the ball from short to first too late to cut off Harris. Then Harris went to second on a passed ball, Vizard walked and Harris scored.

Brown clinched the good will of the fans in the third. In his desire to make good he put enough steam into his bat to lift the ball over the south fence for a home run. This auspicious bow to a Holland crowd coupled by fast fielding made Brown a hot favorite. Jim DePre got the second score in the second inning by a hit for first, a run to second on Luther's sacrifice, an advance to third on Gorton's hit and a tramp home on Shippe's hit.

Both sides did the scoring act in the fifth. Shippe got to first on a hit, stole second while Thomas slept and cantered home on Bell's two bagger. Bell stole third and came home on Wilson's fumble of a little one from Mahan's bat. Ionia made one on hard luck in this inning.

In the sixth Brown hit, stole second and third and scored on Luther's two-bagger. In the seventh Harris scored for Ionia, although he came nearly being cut off by Mahan who made a magnificent catch of a hard fly.

Kinky-legged Vorpapel knocked the ball out of the lot for a home run in the eighth. Root scored. The fans shivered apprehensively in the 9th when Gazzel made home run and forced Harris home. The Ionians might have tied the score had not Gorton made a sensational catch and sent the ball from center to second for a double play.

Sporting News.

Ionia took a gigantic stride towards the goal of glory last Monday afternoon when on the Ionia grounds in a clean, fast and exciting game it defeated the Detroit Tigers of the American league by a score of 3 to 2. It was anybody's game until the ninth inning when Harris knocked a clean one over second base sending in Schubert with the winning run. In the Tigers half of the ninth Thomas, the man who all season has proved an enigma to Holland, struck out "Wild Bill" Donovan and Courtney with two men on bases and clinched the victory. The Tigers were deeply chagrined over the defeat as they played to win and to avoid the humiliation of being outdone by a humble independent team.

Niel Ball is certainly making good on the Toledo team. He is batting around the 347 mark, standing second in the American association league, and is playing fast ball at shortstop. One of the Toledo papers had his out in a recent issue and under it it said that he had the best whip of any player seen in Toledo this year. Ball wanted to come back here and finish the season but the Toledo management would not let him go.

Tomorrow Holland will try conclusions with the Giant Clothiers of Grand Rapids, the fastest team in that city. The Clothiers have been running down all comers of late and expect to do the same here but it is likely that they will run against a bang as Karsten will be in the box and will put forth all of his energy so that he may show the fans that the bombardment he got in Ionia was not a manifestation of weakness but an accident of war.

THE BLACK COUNTRY.

Spot in England That Is Rendered an Eyesore by Accumulations of Refuse.

Anyone who has taken a railway journey through the midland counties will know well enough what is meant by the "Black Country," says Chambers' Journal. Hundreds of acres are covered by the hideous accumulation of debris which has been dug out from the mines and thrown aside as useless material—the husks from which the precious kernel has been abstracted; and these ugly mounds of rubbish not only constitute a terrible eyesore, but they represent a wilderness of unproductive soil. A meeting has lately been held at Birmingham with the object of finding some remedy for this unfortunate state of things, and a mass of opinion has been collected in favor of clothing these barren hillocks with verdure, so that the country shall once more bear the same aspect as it had before the miner came upon the scene and changed the face of nature. It is believed on competent authority that these waste places might again blossom as the rose and become once more fit for the abode of human beings. Mr. Herbert Stone, who was the first to suggest action in this direction, proposes to treat the soil that it should be suitable for the growth of sycamores, lime, beech, ash, elm, or poplar; and Prof. Fisher considers that some thousands of acres of the Black country might be successfully planted with pine or spruce, so as to yield a fair return on the outlay in 30 years' time. On the whole it would seem that this attractive scheme is far from being impracticable, and we can only hope that it will be found possible to carry it into effect.

A Family Affair.

The working members of the family consisting of a father and two sons found themselves out of employment. After a diligent search, the youngest son found employment on the Roxborough filter plant, helping to dig the excavations.

On the completion of the first day's work he asked Mr. McNichol to give his brother a job. The contractor, ever on the alert for good men, asked the young man if his brother could do as much work as he, and on the strength of this recommendation the elder brother was engaged.

The next day both brothers went to McNichol and pleaded to have their father put on the job.

"Can your father do as much work as either of you boys?" asked McNichol.

"Yes," answered the brothers; "he can do as much work as both of us together."

"Very good," replied McNichol. "Send your father around in the morning and you two stay home."—Philadelphia Ledger.
